We are so thankful you've chosen to worship with us today. If you are a guest, please text "bmbcguest" to 27636 or visit our Guest Connection Center to receive a special gift from us.

Pastor Bartholomew & Mrs. Valarie Orr

FROM THE PASTOR'S PEN

As we continue through 2026 — The Year of Management, I am reminded that some of the most important things God has entrusted to us are not things at all—they are people. Our families, our marriages, our children, our relationships, and our homes are precious gifts that require intentional care, prayer, wisdom, and stewardship.

That is why September is especially important here at Brown as we focus on Family Month.

God designed the family to be a place where faith is nurtured, values are established, love is demonstrated, and generations are strengthened. In a world that continues to place tremendous pressure on families, we must be intentional about managing what matters most. We cannot afford to be careless with our marriages, disconnected from our children, or too busy to invest in the people God has placed in our lives.

This month, I encourage every family to make time for one another, pray together, worship together, and grow together. Let us manage our homes in a way that honors God and creates an environment where our families can thrive.

But managing our families also means managing the resources that impact our families. That is why I am excited about our upcoming Housing and Financial Management Symposium. As we live out this year's theme, we want to equip our members with practical tools and biblical wisdom to make sound decisions concerning housing, finances, credit, budgeting, and building a stronger financial future.

We believe that ministry should address the whole person. Spiritual health and financial wisdom can work together to strengthen families and communities. When we learn to manage what God has placed in our hands, we position ourselves to leave a greater legacy for those coming behind us.

And as we focus on our families, we must never forget the source of our strength. This month, we will also gather for Revival—a time to step away from the demands of life, seek God, renew our faith, and allow the Holy Spirit to revive our hearts.

Revival is more than an event on the church calendar. It is an opportunity for God to restore what has become weary, rekindle what has grown cold, and remind us that we cannot manage life effectively without His guidance.

My prayer is that this September will be a turning point for families throughout the Brown family. May marriages be strengthened. May parents be encouraged. May children and young people know that they are loved and valued. May financial burdens be met with wisdom and faith. And may our entire church experience a fresh move of God.

As we continue in The Year of Management, let us remember: What God has entrusted to us, we must intentionally manage.

Let's manage our families with love, our resources with wisdom, our homes with purpose, and our faith with commitment.

Together, let's continue Changing Lives and Making a Difference—one family, one home, and one life at a time.

To His Glory,

Fixing My Past!
